Business Management Portfolio

about me

My name is Ngoc, but I prefer people call me Kylie. I have been living in the U.S. for over three years. English is not my first language, so I have a lot of difficulties in America, but I am familiar with the customs and traditions. Currently, I am pursuing business management at KSU, in hopes to finish with a bachelor's degree within the next two years and get a good job after I graduate. I think it will not be easy, but challenges like this, make me a stronger person.

Learning story

I plan when I finish the bachelor's degree in America, I will come back to my country. During the period of time living in America, I gain a lot experience about how hard to work to adapt in the new environment. Although pursuing a bachelor's degree is not so difficult, for international students this is not smooth and easy. But with strong spirit, I have overcome the difficulties. I think with my living background, I think I can handle the difficulties in the future.
